Los Angeles Realtors Provide Answers on Local Real Estate

BY: CARRIE BAY

08/25/2009

Ask a Realtor, a new online question and answer feature recently launched by Realtor.com, offers homeowners, sellers, and buyers answers to real estate questions from

Los Angeles-area Realtors who know and understand the local market. This online feature is now available on the Realtor.com Blogs homepage.

Through Ask a Realtor, visitors can ask questions free-of-charge and anonymously that will be answered only by licensed real estate professionals. Questions can be on any real estate-related topic ranging from local market trends, mortgages, and home values to buying, selling, or home inspections.

Errol Samuelson, Realtor.com president, said, "Because homeownership is often one of the biggest investments consumers make in their lives, Ask a Realtor was developed to help people navigate real estate, establish relationships with local Realtors, and as a convenient method to ask questions that'll be answered by licensed professionals with hands-on experience in the local market. We look forward to helping millions of people become better informed as they engage with real experts offering real estate answers."

Samuelson continues by explaining that Realtor.com's approach differs from comparable online sites in which anyone can attempt to answer a real estate question.

"By design, the answers published on Ask a Realtor will come only from active members of the National Association of Realtors, professionals with real estate expertise adhering to a strict code of ethics and conduct," said Samuelson. "That combination of local knowledge and professionalism sets Ask a Realtor apart."

Los Angeles-area Realtor and owner and broker of ASG Real Estate, Inc., Allan Glass added, "Ask a Realtor is a great way for anyone to ask questions about our real estate market and to connect with a Realtor that has local experience and connections. I'm excited to participate, and help people who might be contemplating a move or just curious about Los Angeles-area real estate or housing trends."
